GRAND PRAIRIE LOOKS FOR RAIL CONNECTION

Top of Settlers is Railway From Edmonton—Country would Fill up Very Rapidly There—Settlers Outfit Physician Returns to City—Trek Over a Month to Make Trip Out.

Dr. W. S. Frederick and A. W. Babington, of Ottawa, who have been in Grand Prairie this summer, arrived in the city yesterday en route to the Federal capital. Dr. Frederick was engaged to administer to the physical ailments of the men employed by Geo. McMillan, who is surveying the 11th base line from the 6th meridian west to the British Columbia boundary, a distance of 92 miles, a work which will not be completed until November. Twenty men composed McMillan's crew. The 11th base line is south of Saskatoon lake and south of the magnificent Grand Prairie. When the base line survey is completed, McMillan, who has been engaged this summer in laying out 30 townships in the Beaver Lake district of Grand Prairie, will be able to work from this line. Thus within a year the Grand Prairie country will be almost all surveyed and ready for opening to settlement.

Dr. Frederick says the crops in the Grand Prairie country this year have been remarkably good and the settlers are in fine spirits. The optimistic feeling is everywhere evident, and the time they needed to fill the settlement cup of joy to the brim is a foregone conclusion. Without the railway, the country cannot develop as it should, but with one its growth would be nothing short of magical. The country is there to give crops to feed thousands, and the Grand Prairie people confidently expect one or other of the three railway companies to lay out a line in time to tapping this rich and fertile prairie.

Dr. Frederick and Mr. Babington, who was engaged in McMillan's survey, left the camp on August 12, travelling with a freighter through Grand Prairie to Spirit River and then to Peace River, and then east to Peace River Crossing. From there they made the 90 mile portage to the Little Slave lake, where they caught the steamer, Northland, which carried them to North, on the Little Slave River. From the portage they made their way to the Little Slave Landing, at the mouth of the Little Slave river, on the Athabasca, and proceeded in a scow down the Athabasca, 70 miles to Athabasca Landing. They waited for two days at Mirror Landing for the arrival of the steamer, Northland Sun, which, on a difficult trip, the water in the river being exceptionally low, making navigation over the bar next to impossible, finally arrived from Athabasca Landing. But Captain Barber had decided to lay up his steamer in the Little Slave river for the winter, and it was necessary for Dr. Frederick to come down the Athabasca in a scow. Leaving at 1 o'clock last Saturday afternoon they arrived at Athabasca Landing at 10 o'clock Monday morning. They did not attempt to strike at night, but made camp.

Dr. Frederick intends to return to Grand Prairie next summer to establish a medical practice there.

BOW RIVER TUNNEL COMPLETED

Calgary Grain Exchange Official As Ready for Business.

Calgary, Sept. 23.—Blank clearing of this week reached a total of $2,927, 731, which, so far as the grain exchange officials could ascertain, is entirely the remainder of the record for Calgary.

The increase over last year is large, amounting to $800,757. The 1909 figures are $1,402,594. The increase exceeds six per cent.

The tunnel under the Bow river, carrying water pipes to Hillcrest, is completed and the cost of the work has at last been arrived at. The tunnel, which is about 554 feet in length, altogether, including the pipes, cost, $14,179.32.

At a meeting of the grain exchange held last night it was decided that an office should be opened immediately in the Lindsay block. The rooms are ready now, with the exception of the installation of telegraph wires. Next week the exchange will be doing business. The grain men state that Mr. Whyte's comparison of rates via Vancouver and Port Wm. is very unfair. His figures are: Liverpool via Vancouver, per bushel, 34.45; Liverpool via Port Wm., 34.45; Liverpool via 24.40; Liverpool via rail to Atlantic, 24.40. Now these figures are for men state, are based upon a quotation of the New England line of 300 per ton via Vancouver to Liverpool. This line, however, is not the only one on the Pacific. At that rate, there are quotations of 25.61, 26 and 26.61 per ton. These will give the following rates per bushel: Liverpool via Vancouver 25.86, 25.26, 25.86.

Big New Contracting Firm. Montreal, Sept. 23.—J. D. MacIntosh has in Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Superior Junction, has made an arrangement with Mr. Robert Parks, the English contractor, who has been in Canada several times in connection with the building of the Georgian Bay canal, to do a great deal of business in Canada and as soon as the government is ready to start work on the canal this new combination will in all probability get a large share of the construction work.

Murder Charges Against Her. Niagara Falls, Sept. 23.—Coroner Scott, conducting the inquest on the body of the infant girl thrown from the train in connection with the murder of Turner is under arrest in Toronto. This evening inquest was held, and formally charges Mrs. Turner with the murder in the first degree, but the death was the result of asphyxiation due to strangulation.

SHOULD INVESTIGATE STRIKE.

Trade Congress Also Registers Kick Regarding the Entrance of Orientals.

Quebec, Sept. 23.—Two important questions took place at the evening session of the Trades and Labor congress. One was in regard to the mine workers' trouble at Glace Bay, the resolution being adopted calling upon the Federal government to immediately appoint a royal commission to investigate the situation at Glace Bay, the calling out of the militia, the conduct of the militia and the whole state of affairs existing between the mine workers and the company.

The other question which created discussion was the immigration of Orientals, the resolution from the British Columbia delegates pledging the congress to protect Canadian workers from the "hordes of coolies" from the east. The text of the resolution was not altogether satisfactory to some of the delegates, who thought that there should be some definite action for the executive to go with the report when they went before the government.

It was stated that the situation was not as serious now as it was formerly, but until the coming into effect of the Lennox agreement, this was not a general opinion, however, for one delegate stated that James Macpherson had rebuffed since then. The Oriental immigrants had already ruined the coal and salted and salted the coal in British Columbia and had practiced the same control of the mining industry. According to the British Columbia delegate, there were 500,000 of coolies with only 100,000 Canadian miners and one hundred of the latter would be hard to find.

The report of the secretary-treasurer showed that there were 300,000 miners affiliated with the congress, mostly of 40 trade councils and unions.

TATTS' CARRIAGE COLLAPSED.

Fat President Too Heavy for Conveyance—Opens Carriage Tunnel.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Like a new Moses smiting the rock and causing the water to gush forth, President Tatt's fat body formally opened the great tunnel which had been closed by the blockings of irrigation over a tract of 10,000 acres of hitherto unproductive land.

But he also witnessed an exciting scene as the fat man of the Montreal county fair and complimented the 16-year-old winner of the event, as he had beaten and smothered, almost hands with a few Indian chub, and checked babies from their chub, and made a few speeches on the side.

He declined to bathe in the pool at Diamond on the ground that he was too fat for such a public appearance. Also, and for practically the same reason, the spring of the carriage in which he was riding, snapped under the weight of his bulk.

The president rounded out his fifth speech, for this trip, at a dinner in Montreal this evening, and considering that it was the eighth day from the time he left his home in the west, it is not to be wondered at that he was considerably damped up of presidential eloquence as the caravan progressed across the continent.

The continental divide having been crossed at Thompson Pass, at 2,250 feet above the sea, the president is now fairly in the west. And he is receiving the customary western greeting, politics apparently, have been hazy out here, without regard to party lines, is interested in irrigation, reclamation and conservation, and there has been a reference in each of the addresses to these subjects and everybody is happy.

NEW ERA FOR TURKEY.

Winnipeg Minister Investigates Conditions in Turkey.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—Rev. Dr. Duff, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, has just returned from a four day journey to Europe, during which time he presented to the heart of the Turkish empire to Asia, Asia Minor, to see his daughter, Mr. Herbert M. Irwin, wife of Rev. H. M. Irwin, missionary at that point.

The change in the dynasty in Turkey, Dr. Duff states, has been of the greatest advantage to the Christians. They have received far more freedom and toleration in every way. The new regime has the backing of all the intelligent and progressive Turks.

The only danger to the new regime, he said, "is the inertia of the great mass of the people, a mass of ignorant and ignorant, and the total lack of conception of what constitutional freedom means. The Young Turk party seems to have a hold on all intelligent and educated people in the empire, and it is hoped that the new constitution will give them a voice."

Speaking of the work of the missionaries in Asia Minor, he said that they are making a most excellent impression. They had for one thing established a new code of honesty.

Arthur McKeeven, late janitor of the Collegiate Institute, leaves in a few days for the Okanagan Valley, where he will reside in future. The change in his place of residence is being made with a hope that it will lead to an improvement in the condition of his wife, which has been bad for some time past.

GREAT FALL DISPLAY

NOW PROCEEDING AT

Hudson's Bay Stores

More than unusual success attended our Fall Opening. It was simply astonishing the way Ladies' Suits and Coats disappeared, not to speak of Furs, even though it is rather early yet in the season. But now winter is fast approaching, and this makes it imperative that you make your selections without delay. We are making a display of Ladies' Suits, Coats and Furs that will be a revelation to Edmonton ladies, constituting an intensely interesting exposition of Fashion's final decree regarding Fall styles. As to the quality and workmanship, we invite your most critical inspection and comparison.

Never have Edmonton ladies had the privilege of exercising their individual preference, both as to material and styles, as satisfactorily as this magnificent exposition makes possible.

Magnificent Display of New Fall Trimmings

Our stock of trimmings is now complete and a beautiful selection they are too. They have come to us direct from France and it is no exaggeration to say that they far surpass any previous display we have ever shown. Some of them are most elaborate, being richly studded with colored stones closely resembling garnets, emeralds, rubys and amethysts, while the color combinations are superb. Our sample book is now ready for your inspection.

Children's Touques and Tams

At last they have arrived. There will sure to be a scramble for them on Saturday after waiting so long.

Children's sailor tams from .25c to $1.25

Special Display of Evening Dress Goods and Silks

More than ordinary success has attended the efforts of our buyer in collecting an assortment of silks, that for loveliness of colorings, beauty of design and almost unlimited variety, surpasses anything we have previously had. The world's most famous manufacturers have contributed of their best as this magnificent showing fully verifies. The season of the Ball and Cinderella is fast drawing nigh. ## OUR CONSERVATION GETS US BUSINESS

Comparison of the Methods Adopted by Canadian and American Exhibitors at Seattle Shows that Much Better Canadian Attractions Not Scared Away By Salespeople.

Seattle, Sept. 23.—A striking comparison showing the difference in spirit of the American and Canadian people is to be found at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exhibition.

A great deal has been heard throughout Canada of the aggressive conservatism of the American people of how they take advantage of every opportunity to garner the middle dollar at all costs when there is no business in sight, they get out and make business.

At the same time considerable has been said about the Canadian being slow in their difference in framing up combinations which have for their sole objective a desire to get the money, and of how they constantly are overlooking opportunities to make the money and sell the bank into their hands.

Well, from a certain point of view both these statements are true. But at the same time, from another point of view, it is pretty fair to say that the Canadian people are more dignified and less dollar-grasping. The contrast and its effect are in plain sight at the A-Y-P, and he who reads may run in the right direction.

Here are two facts: In an American building of any kind you will find a man lacking a sales-counter of some kind, at which visitors are coaxed, begged, harassed or adjured to buy something or other. In an Canadian building in their anything of any kind whatever offered for sale.

In the great English Stores building where the works of the greatest scientific research, the mystery of the form growth and the cosmic depth are spread out before the layman's gaze, right along the models of Erickson's early achievements and the latest triumphs of the greatest American inventors, there is a battery of sales-women selling their wares, so-called, and the attendant, refusing to let one rather the dignity of the magnificent display which include $500,000, to the tawdry level of a Saturday bargain counter.

Do Not Want His Money. Over in the Canadian building, where thousands and hundreds of thousands of visitors get their first impression of Canada, the sight-seer finds his money counter—nothing that goes out of the building goes free. The attendant are courteous, dignified and attentive. The visitor emerges with a subconscious but lasting impression that Canada's "Wilderness" means what it says.

At the Alberta exhibit it is the same story. The exhibit is free; the information is free and the farms are free to anyone who wants to come to see them.

At the C.P.R. exhibit, notwithstanding that they are advertising irrigated lands and cheap fares, nobody is asked to buy. In fact, the "would-be" purchaser has to go outside the grounds to find a sales agent. The C.P.R. is advertising its line, immediately opposite the Alberta exhibit, which is playing on its business and which is run absolutely free.

The effect from an advertising point of view is self-evident to anyone who understands the hypothesis of advertising. The visitor who rules past the Washington County exhibit and is asked to buy something, has plenty of time to sit down at the Alberta exhibit and see the difference.

Another remarkable point which the Alberta exhibit has brought out is that there is a terrible confusion in the American mind as to the meaning of the word "conservation." Except for the visitors from the western states, one of the men who visits the exhibit appears to know the geographical and climatic difference between Alberta and the country to the east. In this confusion, the advertising with its milder climate and infinitely greater resources, must have suffered in the past and will continue to suffer until the distinction is properly adjusted. In this respect the Alberta exhibit has amply repaid its outlay.

Among the California exhibits, there have been well advertised. Hundreds from the Golden State and in the west exhibit and their curiosity on certain lines should find a more complete knowledge of the province with the fact that the subjects which they should find in their advertising. For instance, California is in practically the same condition of transmigration at the present time as are all the other western farming states; it is turning from a wheat and dairy to a dairying and mixed farming country. The California's difficulty at the present time in the dairy business appears from their convention to be to get a separate deal from the creamery companies, which are operated as a profit producing private enterprise. Every California farmer in Washington State has had to cover over to the Alberta exhibit and see the difference. A family familiar with the Danish system in dairying but to them the fact that the government is a new and startling piece of news which it is difficult for them to grasp or understand is a fact that the Government owns the telephone and that it is a fact that the agricultural conditions for the benefit of the farmer, generally constitutes a solar system. American farmers and Californians in particular have become so used to receiving no government make-offs and control that their mind has been so completely conditioned by the governmental institution operated for the benefit of the people that the fact that the government could ever be placed position the great mass of American farmers, Alberta's method alone would remain vacant any longer than it would take to die the critics.

Another Victory for Spaniards. Madrid, Sept. 23.—The Spanish forces had another success in Morocco, Wednesday, occupying Zelu and the town of the Beni-Hadid. The Moors were killed in battle between the two and fled in despair. The Spaniards are even wounded.

Mr. Kenneth of the Test and Mat. Truce Co., Edmonton, advise placing special order for dogs and pens to be used in celebration October 1st as early as possible. Their fee depends on the size to be taken to the utmost during the next few days.

WOMAN'S FIENDISH CRIME.

Alleged to Have Deliberately Choked Infant to Death.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—The three people who hunt Author's child being choked to death and run to the room where the deed was being committed is the latest and most startling feature of the evidence which the police have gleaned. The fact which they are discussing about Mrs. Maud Turner charged with the murder of the child. Inspector Duncan says he will produce three people who were in the house with Mrs. Turner Tuesday night and heard sounds as of a child crying. They rushed to her room. They found Mrs. Turner much excited. She pronounced that the sound was coming from outside the window, but they insisted it was not. She persuaded them to leave the room to go and look at the place which she indicated and when they returned the sounds had ceased.

ITALIANS ROBBED GALICIANS.

Under Guise of Friendship Lured Them To Secluded Spot.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—Three Galicians, newly arrived from the West, were refreshing themselves in a restaurant here tonight when they were joined by three Italians, who, entering into conversation soon became very friendly and finally extended to the strangers an invitation to their homes to drink wine. Nothing but the Galicians were with them. The found friends and were led into the shades of St. John's Park. Here the Galicians turned upon their guests and producing knives demanded and secured a watch and $25.00 from Domenico, a watch and $37 from John Carvak and watch and $37 from Mike Palagonia. They were not, however, successful in breaking away and as a result all three were wounded by the Italians.

TAINTED JURIES IN CHICAGO.

Wheels of Justice Were Held Up For Some Time.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—In all of the courts of Chicago, except the municipal court, the wheels of justice were at a standstill for an hour today while 23 judges listened to an impassioned arraignment by State Attorney Worman of this city, for which he was charged with tampering with drawing jurors. Service, he said, was fraudulently replaced by names of men favorable to those in a conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice. Worman declared that he was, by this method, even the grand jury was suffering.

John J. Holland, senior, attorney and member of the jury commission, was suspended by the judges from his official position pending the outcome of the investigation.
